Social Studies Readings Summer 2010

Honors U.S. History –you must read The American Colonies by Alan Taylor and be ready for a test on it on the first Friday of class in August. You may have notes that cover the front of one 8.5 x11 sheet of typing paper. The notes must be handwritten by you. You may use them on the test. We will be starting U.S. History at 1865 per Diocesan directive so it is imperative that you know about the founding of our country by reading this summer assignment.

AP U. S. History-you must read The American Colonies by Alan Taylor and complete the large assignment for it which can be found at www.flhspatterson.pbworks.com. When you get to the wiki page look to the right and click on AP US History. You will then see AP US History Summer Assigment 2010. Open it! This assignment must be typed when handed in on the first Friday of class in August.

Please keep it in the same organization format by copying and pasting it into a new Word document and then answering the questions after each item. Questions regarding this reading will also be included on your first test.

You must also read The Jungle by Upton Sinclair and be prepared to answer an essay question about it when you return. You might wish to make notes for yourself for use on this essay.

AP Human Geography-please choose one book from the four titles that are on the wiki at www.flhspatterson.pbworks.com. You must only read ONE and do the book report in the format given on that site. It is due on the first Friday of class in August 2010. It must be typed. When you get to the wiki, look to the right and open AP Human Geography and you will see the Summer Assignment.

Honors American Government

Read The American Cause by Russell Kirk

Be prepared for a test on the material during the first full week of school.

AP Government

Read America's Constitution: A Biography by Akhil Reed Amar, Chapter 1 (p. 5-39), Chapter 2, Chapter 4, and Chapter 6.

Visit the AP Government link on Mrs. Everett's website over the summer to find the questions you must answer on each chapter. Questions will be due on Monday of the first full week of school. The website can be found at (sites.google.com/site/pcaeverett).

World History Honors

Read The Coming of Civilization by Trevor Cairns

(There will be a quiz the first week back covering the book!)
